

Be the Star of Your Life

WITH LIFE LESSONS FROM SPEAKER AND ACTOR

Jim Meisner, Jr.

Entertaining and engaging, Jim motivates and educates. This uplifting metaphorical message mixes humorous show business anecdotes with positive tips to help you take control of your life and live the life of your dreams. Jim's contagious enthusiasm inspires listeners to find the best in themselves, and in others. A versatile communication professional, Jim produces radio and television commercials, writes speeches for executives, designs public relations strategies, and appears regularly on television and in movies. His history book, American Revolutionaries and Founders of the Nation, was published in 1999.

If life was a movie, what part would YOU play?

Take control of your life and learn to:

- Live with purpose
- Overcome rejection
- Write your life's "script"
- Live life "in the moment"
- Be the "Director" of your life
- "Upgrade" the part you play in life
