Dear Jim:

On behalf of Virginia Government Communicators, thank you for your creative presentation at our May annual conference.

We have received and tallied evaluations from the conference and, you'll be pleased to know, you scored highest of all our presenters in two categories: "speaker kept my attention and interest" (3.77 of 4) and "material presented will help me in my work" (3.38 of 4).

Congratulations! You've not only "soared to success," but were able to relate to our members the concept of achieving the impossible through the motivational story of Wilbur and Orville Wright. Other positive comments included, "Meisner's session was inspiring" and "a strong program feature was Jim Meisner's creativity exercise."

From several comments I received in person you hit home by showing the audience how to apply the Wright's principles in their own lives - it is obvious they enjoyed hearing you. Thank you again.

Sincerely,

Lois delBuono
2000-2001 VGC president
